After 2 years of experience in the administering of the part-time law under such varied conditions there begin to emerge definite principles together with the resultant standards of practice required by the New York conditions and problems. In the belief that knowledge of these will be of value to those striving to carry out successful part-time programs, an attempt is made to state them in this document. Briefly, the New York State compulsory part-time school law requires that all minors between the ages of 14 and 18, not high school graduates and not in attendance upon the regular full-time schools, if resident or employed in cities or districts having a population of 5000 or...
