Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Our Fallen Chieftain, William McKinley: A Sermon For tho the Giant Ages heave the hill And break the shore, and evermore Make and break, and work their will; Tho world on world in myriad myriads roll Round us, each with different powers, And other forms of life than ours, What know we greater than the soul? On God and Godlike men we build our trust. Hush, the Dead March wails in the people s ears: The dark crowd moves, and there are sobs and tears: The black earth yawns: the mortal disappears; Ashes to ashes; dust to dust; He is gone who seemed so great, - Gone; but nothing can bereave him Of the force he made his own Being here, and we believe him Something far advanced in State, And that he wears a truer crown Than any wreath that man can weave him. Speak no more of his renown, Lay your earthly fancies down, And in the vast cathedral leave him. God accept him, Christ receive him. - Tennyson, on the Duke of...
